Owen Marsden ACA

Owen trained as a chartered accountant with one of the largest firms of independent accountants in East Anglia, qualifying as a chartered accountant in 2003. He joined Walton Dodge Forensic in February 2006.

Owen has significant in-depth experience of carrying out detailed examinations of the accounts and business records of businesses ranging in size from small unincorporated businesses to large family companies with turnover in excess of £40 million. His experience covers a wide range of business sectors and industry types.

From 2004 to 2006, Owen managed a niche chartered accountancy practice specialising in providing direct accountancy related services to a diverse client base dealing with matters which constantly required him to analyse and identify the key financial issues within each business and to “separate the wood from the trees”.

Owen is actively engaged in assisting Roger Walton and Jon Dodge in their role as named experts in cases where his involvement is appropriate and proportionate.
